See your own post, where you said you didn't know how to get the song out. Or you are asking me to get someone to answer your question, in which case I am not taking any more part in this.Q: Getting class of the object I am iterating using for each loop I want to make a program which is basically a form that is posted using AJAX. I have a class which extends DefaultHandler. This class handles the submission of the form. The form is declared like so in my model. public function rules() { return [ 'name' =>'required', 'email' =>'required|email' ]; } The form looks like this 8215747 6af
